THREE LEGAL MOVES MADE

Judge Sanderson Agrees To Send Exceptions to Full Bench of Court

On Aug. 11—Sacco and Vanzetti still live.
Through the high-dated windows of the prison they gazed to day the mild light of another day. It was a day they had not expected.
It was a day which they did not know they were going to see until a few half hours before they were to have taken the short march to the electric chair.

SACCO CONTINUES HIS FOOD STRIKE

Boston Aug. 11—Nicola Sacco today began the first day of his 12-day respite he refusing food.
It was the thirteenth day of his hunger strike.

Baronino Vanzetti who had fasted for nine days drank a cup of coffee and ate a little food.

They were doomed to die a few minutes past 12 o'clock.

Take Every Precaution Outside the prison were more than 400 police and state troopers, armed and vigilant. Behind a dead-end barrier machine guns and firing flood lights. Their presence attested to the fact that the execution of Sacco and Vanzetti was a matter of the highest importance.

The respite from death agreed upon by the governor and his council after hours of debate that continued to within the very shadow of their cells also brought 12 more days. Life to Sacco.

COUNCIL AGREES TO LEND HAND IN PROMOTION

Officials Pledge To Support
Movement After Hearing
Plans for Institution

APPROVED BY COUNTY
No Place To Send Prisoners
After Dayton Workhouse
Is Filled

Expressing themselves heartily in favor of the project, members of the council in a learned session last night unanimously agreed to give their support to plans for the construction of a workhouse in Marion County.

In approving plans for this institution, the movement for which was launched several weeks ago, members of council expressed the belief that it would solve the situation that has arisen since Dayton workhouse officials notified city and county officials that hereafter no more prisoners outside of Marion County would be accepted.

No Action Taken
While no definite action was taken at the meeting last night, councilmen agreed that they will do their utmost to make the proposal a success.

Bolton (Lear) was scheduled to communicate this information to Marion County commissioners (who) preliminary to further consideration of the matter.
The county board has already informed the proposal.

The urgent need of immediate action is indicated in the fact that since the closure of the Dayton institution, workhouse has been found that will care for more than Marion and Marion County.

There are now no facilities in the city or county to care for prisoners. Both the city prison and county jail have been limited capacities that housing prisoners hereafter sent to Dayton is out of the question, officials say.

For several years the proposal to build a local workhouse has been a matter of speculation. No definite action was taken, however, as long as there was another institution to which prisoners might be sent.

Complaints surrounding Marion have extended their support by offering to send prisoners here.

DE VALERA AND DEPUTIES TAKE ALLEGIANCE OATH

Action Generally Regarded as Political Move To Unseat
Cosgrave

DUBLIN, Aug. 11—The Republican deputies in the Irish Dail today took the oath of allegiance to the Irish Free State, the first step toward the establishment of the new government.

It was the first time the "Gleil" (the Irish Free State) had admitted allegiance in any way in the new Irish Republic.

In a statement issued previous to the administration of the oath, the Dail had declared that the action of the Irish Free State in taking the oath of allegiance was "an empty formula which is not binding."

The action of the Republicans was generally regarded as a political move toward unseating President William Cosgrave and his cabinet.

It was reported that the Labor party leaders have agreed to support the Republicans in a campaign to have provision of the Irish Free State constitution the requirement that members of the Dail subscribe to the oath of allegiance.

The Cosgrave government is expected to meet with defeat tomorrow on a motion for adjournment, and the government is expected to resign almost immediately.

General elections are forecast for the near future.

NEW TAX PLAN INAUGURATED IN MARION COUNTY

Rates Cannot Be Fixed Until Sub-Division Approves Income Estimates

A new plan devised for the purpose of estimating and improving a more equitable tax was inaugurated here today when the county board of supervisors met in session.

The plan provides for the sub-division of the county into districts, each of which will be assessed on the basis of its own income. This method is expected to result in a more equitable distribution of the tax burden.

The board of supervisors, under the leadership of Chairman J. H. Smith, will meet again next week to consider the plan. It is expected that the plan will be adopted and put into effect by the end of the month.

Indiana's Dramatic Political Story Begins to Unfold

To obtain the complete story of Indiana's present political situation in an unbiased and impartial manner, Central Press sent one of its ablest writers, Mr. W. H. W. The writer, Douglas W. H. who has written the only story of Indiana's life as told by its people and which series ran in hundreds of papers has been at the state of the Indiana House of Representatives for the past week. The following is a summary of the story as told by the writer.

BY DOUGLAS W. H.
Staff writer for Central Press and the Marion Star

ONE of the most dramatic political stories in the history of Indiana is being unfolded at the present time. It is a story of political intrigue, of power, of ambition, of the struggle for the control of the state. It is a story that has been told in the past, but never so fully and so vividly as it is being told now.

Yet that which men first laugh at in to a later, bitter, stern, and to be a source of trouble to the state. What men? The men who are the leaders of the state, the men who are the leaders of the state, the men who are the leaders of the state.

The Indiana State House at Indianapolis and H. C. Stephenson, former grand dragon of the Indiana Ku Klux Klan and Governor Ed Jackson.

You Can't Make a Good Ginger Ale Overnight

CLICQUOT CLUB is a veritable vintage that stimulates the senses and satisfies the natural craving for a pure, delicious drink.

The connoisseur who tests a rare old beverage bases his verdict on four cardinal considerations—Color, Bouquet, Flavor and Body.

Lifting to the light a glass of Clicquot Club Ginger Ale, first of all he sees a sparkling glow; next he whiffs a subtle fragrance born of the perfect blending of the fruit flavors—orange, lemon, lime, and the choicest ginger root from Jamaica—a bouquet of alluring aroma.

The first taste tells a story of flavor, which represents the devoted cooperation of skilled craftsmen with the mellowing powers of Time.

And, like fine wine, Clicquot Club has body, which comes into being through the intermingling of the right proportions of sweetening and flavor, plus aging, which supplies that indefinable quality so highly appreciated.

Based on the virgin water of a natural spring, and containing ingredients whose quality is higher than the highest government standards, Clicquot Club is unique in its purity.

Your choice—the rich Golden, or the delicate Pale Dry—and you have the ultimate in a pure, exhilarating drink.

"After 'shopping around' a long time for just the right face powder, says pretty Miss Dorothy Tatten, 2300 Northland Ave. Brooklyn, N. Y. 'I've found Black and White Face Powder is the best used in the world. It's fragrant and texture is just what I need. It's soft, fluffy powder never clings or clogs my skin but really refines the texture and makes it look a thousand times better by giving a fine glowing color and a more velvety finish than it naturally has.'"
